

International Social Justice Project (ISJP)

The entity that has organized the survey and is responsible for data collection - as well as key data on the entity's membership, governance arrangements, source of funding etc.

The International Social Justice Project was organized by social scientists from thirteen different countries.

The ISJP was funded by the National Council for Soviet and East European Research, the National Science Foundation, the Open Society Institute, and funding agencies in each of the participating countries.

A historical sketch of the initiation and origin of the survey.

For a detailed description of the origins of this survey, please refer to the ISJP Introduction (scroll down to "Project History").

Internet links to the website of the responsible organization

<http://www.butler.edu/isjp/index.html>

The frequency or repetitions of the survey. Possible explanation of this.

The survey was conducted twice, first in 1991 and then later in 1996.

A description of the survey's content, i.e. both focused rotational and / or core modules of the survey

The survey is about popular beliefs and attitudes on social, economic and political justice.

An outline of the type of sample used.

According to ICPSR, the target population was citizens aged 18 and older in participating countries. The sampling procedures varied between countries. For details from the 1991 round, please refer to the ICPSR codebook (sections "Methodology of the 1991 ISJP Survey" and "Methodology of the 1996 Survey").

An outline of the main data collection methods employed.

Telephone and face-to-face interviews.

An account of the availability of the data to researchers, restrictions on access, etc.

The data are freely available for download at ICPSR upon logging in via Facebook, Google or MyData.

Questionnaires, English version

The questionnaire is available in the ICPSR codebook.

The countries included in the different rounds

ICJP I: Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Federal Republic of Germany, Holland, Hungary, Japan, Poland, Russia, Slovenia, the UK, and the US. For a list of responsible individuals and institutions in these countries, please refer to Participating Countries in ICJP1.

ICJP II: Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Germany, Hungary, and Russia. For a list of responsible individuals and institutions in these countries, please refer to Participating Countries in ICJP2.

Cumulative file of the various rounds

The cumulative file is available here.

Publications based on data

Publications based on the 1991 data

Publications based on the 1996 data

Analytical summarySources

Unless otherwise noted, all information is taken directly from the responsible organization's website.