

IntUne (Integrated and United. The Quest for Citizenship in an Ever Closer Europe) Project (2005-2009)

The entity that has organized the survey and is responsible for data collection - as well as key data on the entity's membership, governance arrangements, source of funding etc.

The IntUne Project (full name: IntUne – Integrated and United. The Quest for Citizenship in an Ever Closer Europe) was organized by 29 European institutions and more than 100 scholars across Europe. It was coordinated by the University of Siena, Italy, and financed by the European Union within the scope of the 6th Framework Programme. For a full list of participating institutions, please refer to INTUNE participating institutions.

The project is structured with a steering committee, a scientific committee, working groups, issue area groups, a monitoring group, and a project secretariat. For details, please refer to Committees & Group Coordinators.

A historical sketch of the initiation and origin of the survey

The enlargement of the EU during the past couple of decades, especially the last one, constitutes the historical backdrop of this study.

A description of the survey's content, i.e. both focused rotational and / or core modules of the survey

The survey's content regards if and how EU citizenship is emerging.

An outline of the type of sample and the main data collection methods used

Sampling procedures and data collection methods vary between countries. Please refer to the codebooks for details. For wave 1, see appendix 9 (sample characteristics, p. 75 and onwards). For wave 2, see appendix 7 (information on the fieldwork) and appendix 8 (sample characteristics), p. 60 and onwards

An account of availability of the data to researchers, restrictions on access, etc.

The data are freely available at the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) upon registration, to users at ICPSR members institutions only. Online analysis is available for non-members upon logging in through Google, Facebook or MyData.
